The Situation of the Murray-Darling River

Special Guest speaker: Uncle Bruce Shillingsworth

A Muruwari and Budjiti man from Brewarrina, he speaks passionately on the way the sacred river has been laid waste and what we need to do to fix the mess.

The Murray-Darling is the longest and most important river system in Australia at 2,750 kms and 15th largest river system in the world, and it is lifeless.

Despite the $8 billion already spent as part of this $13 billion plan it has been a failure.
